

FEDERAL TROOPS LEAVING TAMPICO

EVACUATION REPORTED IN WIRELESS DESPATCH FROM REAR-ADMIRAL

Rebels Are Reported to Have Encountered Desperate Resistance in Final Attack on Port—Federals Leaving City By Railroad.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Evacuation of Tampico by the Mexican federal garrison began at 12:30 p. m., today according to a relayed wireless despatch to the navy department from Rear-Admiral Mayo. The federal troops were leaving by the railroad.

That the rebels encountered desperate resistance in their final attack on Tampico and that they were compelled to carry their fight to the heart of the town was reported by Rear-Admiral Mayo's report. He stated that at one o'clock this afternoon when it was reported the rebels had occupied Tampico there was heavy rifle firing in the plaza and that big gun firing continued.

Advices received by constitutionalists here stated the federals were evacuating Tampico but details were lacking.

The federals were retiring by way of railroads leading to San Luis Potosi and it was assumed that they hoped to reach Pachuca, the terminus of a railway line that leads indirectly into Mexico City. The railroad out of Tampico to Monterey is held by the constitutionalists.

News of the fighting at Tampico came in brief despatches to the navy department.

First, Rear Admiral Mayo reported firing since five A. M., continuing until the afternoon. He stated that the federals lacked ammunition and could not hold out.

The Mexican federal gunboats on whose six pounders the garrison depended for protection against the artillery fire of the constitutionalists took a position far up the river part of the day but at 2 p. m., withdrew to the outer harbor where the American and other foreign ships lay. Their purpose was not explained but the inference drawn was that they were getting out of range of the rebel artillery to avoid destruction.

Shortly afterward reports came from Admiral Mayo that the federal evacuation had begun.

The taking of Tampico, the port next in importance to Vera Cruz will raise many interesting questions as the constitutionalists have hitherto held no sea-coast towns. It is possible that the federal gunboats outside the harbor may seek to prevent arms and supplies from landing at Tampico, but such an interference with international commerce might not be tolerated by the big foreign ships lying there and complications are possible.

As there is an embargo on the exportation of arms into Mexico from the United States, ammunition could be shipped only from European ports and hitherto there has been no interference by General Huerta with foreign commerce other than that with the United States.

With success at Tampico the constitutionalists will press hard for possession of Saltillo and San Luis Potosi, where the garrison from Tampico is believed to have fled.

Will Re-open Commerce.

El Paso, May 13.—The capture of Tampico by General Pablo Gonzales, reported today, will eliminate any possibility of complications with foreign nations and will mean the opening of commercial and industrial pursuits throughout the interior of Mexico, according to a statement made tonight by Roberto Pesqueira, confidential representative of General Carranza. The senseless of the international situation, he said, had been relieved by the entry of Gonzales' troops to Tampico would give absolute assurance of protection for the oil wells and all other property, no matter by whom owned and would obviate any friction or necessity for action by foreign nations.

The capture of Tampico, Mr. Pesqueira said, not only gave the constitutionalists absolute control of the Mexican coast and by its railroad connections assured prompt and efficient troop movements, but also a free port of entry gave connection to the markets of the world with the centers of business in the interior.

"Embargo Prolongs Struggle"

Torreon, Mex., May 13.—"On to Saltillo, San Luis Potosi and Mexico City," is the constant cry heard everywhere here.

In the streets, plazas, government offices, cafe and stores, the speedy advance is the thing they talk of. Note of impatience runs through conversation and inquiry often brings the statement that Mexico is red of war an expression of regret at the United States replaced the embargo on arms.

"The embargo will only prolong a struggle," said General Villa recently, and most Mexicans take that view, although regret rather than sentiment is expressed when the action of the United States is discussed by educated constitutionalists. The Villa army, however, is confident it will obtain ammunition somewhere. In the past much ammunition has been taken from the federals and the soldiers are confident they can repeat this performance.

Others feel that the embargo will be lifted and an optimistic view is taken by all. Every possible measure to ensure success at Saltillo and points further south is being taken.

ROSE UNPERTURBED AT FIVE HOURS OF CROSS EXAMINATION

"Bald Jack" Quietly Answers Every Question Asked Him by Chief of Becker's Council.

New York, May 13.—"Bald Jack" Rose, chief witness for the prosecution at the second trial of Charles Becker, charged with being the instigator of the plot that resulted in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, came from the stand at the conclusion today of five hours of relentless cross-examination bright eyed and smiling. The bald headed informer quietly and unflinchingly answered every question asked him by Martin T. Manton, chief of Becker's counsel. Even when Manton shouted accusations of murder at Rose and tried to make him admit that he had made his living committing petty larcenies and by selling opium to the slaves of his habit of New York's Chinatown, the former gambler remained unperturbed.

Rose's expression never changed during all the grilling. The tone of his voice was neither raised or lowered at any time. He reiterated his story of under-world intrigue and murder with a calm and matter-of-fact air. He showed no fear, no emotion and no remorse, except on one occasion. Then he said his conscience pricked him when he thought over how he had plotted to have Herman Rosenthal murdered.

Manton managed to get Rose to admit that there were minor discrepancies between the testimony he offered at the first trial and that he gave on direct examination yesterday. Rose said his testimony yesterday was more complete in places than his former testimony. At the same time, he said, he told some things at the first trial he did not mention at this one.

"I know so much about it and have talked so much about it," said Rose, "it is impossible for me not to leave some things out now and then."

Chicago, May 13.—The return of the body of Samuel Meisenberg, the Chicago boy who was killed in the occupation of Vera Cruz, was marked by panic in the city hall where the body lay in state for three hours today.

So great was the crush to view the catafalque in the rotunda of the municipal building that scores of women fainted while men caught in the smothering press cried for air. Only the names of twelve women who succumbed were obtainable by the police, but among these was Mrs. Morris Meisenberg, mother of the dead hero. A riot call brought the police, some of them mounted, who succeeded in restoring order. The catafalque itself, banked high with flowers, was protected by eight marines under Captain Robert Y. Rhea.

It was late in the afternoon before the casket was finally brought to the quiet of one of the decedents' home and his sorrowing family was left alone with its dead. The funeral will be held with full Jewish rites tomorrow and an immense procession of soldiers, sailors, national guardsmen and veterans will escort the cortege to the Synagogue.

So great was the crush in front of the building that the half hundred policemen on duty found themselves powerless and an assembly call was sounded for the militia. A provisional company was formed and armed with rifles pushed the crowd back.

Further drastic action to compel compliance with President Wilson's disarmament proclamation waits on further orders from Washington. Until these are received here there will be no wholesale search of houses, tents, or mountain canons for weapons. Army officers might suspect as being concealed.

Lieutenants Chief Witness.

Denver, Colo., May 13.—Lieutenants R. W. Benedict and J. S. Lamme, two officers of the Colorado National Guard were the chief witnesses before the court martial today at the trial of Major Patrick J. Hamrock, charged with murder, manslaughter, arson and larceny growing out of the Ludlow tragedy. The two officers who acted under orders of Major Hamrock on the day of the battle, swore that the battle was started by strikers who fired upon the national guardsmen.

That three bombs were fired as a signal for assistance only after a number of bullets from strikers rifles had struck near the military camp.

That, in their estimation, the fire was started by an explosion of an over-turned lamp and not by the state troops.

That two women and eleven children who lost their lives in the colony, they believed dead of suffocation hours before the fire broke out.

"The orders were," said Lieut. Lamme, "to advance down the tracks in the direction of the tent colony and 'smoke em out.'"

"Did you understand that order to mean to set fire to the tents?" asked Col. Lingenfelter, a member of the court.

"Not at all," replied Lamme. "I construed it to mean that we should advance with a heavy fire and dislodge the strikers."

FORMER PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF NEW HAVEN TO BE EXAMINED

It is Now Expected That Charles S. Mellen Will Be Called as Witness Before Inter-state Commerce Commission Despite Rumors to the Contrary.

Washington, May 13.—Charles S. Mellen, former president and several of the directors of the New Haven will be placed upon the stand in the investigation by the inter-state commerce commission of the financial operations and relations of the New Haven and the Billard company.

It is expected that Mr. Mellen will be called as a witness tomorrow despite rumors to the contrary and that he may be under examination for several days.

In private letters already produced in the pending proceedings, Mr. Mellen has said that he was tired of bearing the brunt of criticism and continually in connection with the New Haven's transactions and indicated his desire to place the responsibility where it may belong.

Late today chief counsel Folk of the commission, received telegrams from physicians and William Rockefeller was too ill to appear at all as a witness. Dr. Walter F. Chappell, declared that any attempt to examine Mr. Rockefeller at this time would endanger seriously his life as he was in a very feeble condition. Mr. Rockefeller is at Jekyll Island, Ga.

The department of justice, through Attorney General McReynolds, entered an emphatic protest to the commission against the calling of Mr. Mellen and the directors of the New Haven as a witness in the pending inquiry.

It was pointed out by the attorney general that their testimony might render them immune from prosecution. If such disclosures as might be made would justify criminal proceedings and it might also embarrass the department of justice in its efforts to effect a readjustment of the railroad.

At a conference of the railroad officials and the attorney general it was said that the latter did not indicate that he had in view any prosecution of the New Haven officials.

The view expressed by the commission is that the it is far more important that all of the facts in the New Haven's Billard company situation should be developed with their probable value in the framing of legislation to prevent a re-occurrence of such a situation, than to make defendants in a possible court proceeding with Mr. Mellen and those associated with him in the transactions under investigation.

THE "HUSLER" HAS BECOME BACK NUMBER SAYS REDFIELD

Secretary of Commerce Tells Brown University Students That the Day of the Apostle of the Strenuous Life Has Passed.

Providence, R. I., May 13.—"Both the Hustler and the Apostle of the strenuous life have become back numbers in their methods," William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce told the Brown University students today in an address of "effectiveness."

"In most cases the strenuous life is the least effective and efficient," he said.

Secretary Redfield also discussed the wants of human life in commercial progress.

"We have advocates of peace who are fluent in speech regarding the horrors of strife," he declared. "Yet while one must sympathize with those who have lost dear ones in battle are we as eloquent in respect to the many slain in industry?"

"We mourn the nineteen months of this year there were slain several times that number in the industries of Massachusetts without great public grief and the grisly list of dead from automobiles in the streets of New York makes our occupation of Vera Cruz look relatively like a pleasure excursion."

"I doubt if either state or nation is as yet sufficiently effective in thought on these matters to provide at once, let us say, as many millions for public health as we would provide for a railway in Alaska, or for additions to our army."

"I approve both the railway and naval additions but it seems to me effective thinking would place at least as great weight upon the value of our men and women."

PROPOSED ELECTRIC FRANCHISE HAS RIGID INSPECTION RULES

Schedule of Rates Identical With Those Effective in Hannibal—Sections From Ordinance Are Quoted—Meters Must Be Checked.

The electric franchise which has been given a first reading by the city council as mentioned yesterday provides that the residence rate for electric light shall be 8 cents instead of 13 1/2 cents as now charged and that for large consumers there shall be various discounts depending upon the quantity consumed. The schedule of rates is identical with that in force in Hannibal and with that which the city council adopted at a meeting held prior to January 1st when the schedule was made the commercial rate basis in Jacksonville.

The electric franchise is being discussed more than are the two others probably because of the marked change in rates which it proposes. The franchise also proscribes rigid rules for meter inspection with the end in view of securing the most efficient service possible. Because of the public interest in the matter the rates proposed in the franchise are reprinted here and the sections relating to meter inspection are also given.

Section 8.—The said Grantee shall on the first day in the month succeeding the acceptance of this ordinance, put into effect the following rates to be charged for commercial lighting and power, to wit:

Residence Rate.—Base rate, eight cents (8c) per kilowatt hour. Discounts, if paid before the 10th of the month: Less than $1.00, no discount; $1.00 to $5.00, 10 per cent discount; $5.00 to $10.00, inclusive, 30 per cent discount; all current in excess of $10.00, gross at 6c net.

Business Rate.—1 to 200 kwh. per month, 7c per kwh.; 200 to 400 kilowatt per month, 6c per kilowatt; 400 to 600 kilowatt per month, 5c per kilowatt; 600 to 1000 kilowatt per month, 4c per kilowatt; 1000 and over kilowatt per month 3c per kilowatt.

Power Rate.—1 to 100 kilowatt, 5c per kilowatt; 101 to 300 kilowatt 4c per kilowatt; 301 to 500 kilowatt 3.5c per kilowatt; 501 to 1000 kilowatt 2.5c per kilowatt; 1001 to 2000 kilowatt 2.4c per kilowatt; 2001 to 4000 kilowatt 2.2c per kilowatt; 4001 to 10,000 kilowatt 2c per kilowatt; 10,001 to 50,000 kilowatt 1.5c per kilowatt; 50,000 and over kilowatt 1c per kilowatt.

Bills for electric current furnished to private consumers each month shall be due and payable at the office of the Jacksonville Gas and Electric Company upon the first day of the next succeeding month and said rates allowing discount shall be discounted if paid within ten (10) days after becoming due.

Section 9.—Said company shall furnish and install without charge a meter for each of its consumers now having connection with its system and for each consumer for whom it may hereafter provide service, and shall keep such meters in satisfactory operative condition so that the same shall properly register the amount of current used by each consumer; provided, however, that all such meters shall remain the property of said Company and be subject to its rules and regulations.

That the City Council may appoint for the City as Inspector some suitable person competent to test electrical meters as to their accuracy, and the City Council may appoint a deputy inspector who shall be a competent person to make any and all tests hereinafter provided for which he shall be required and directed to make.

That the inspector may on or prior to the first day of April, 1915, provide and hereafter maintain at the City's expense a suitable place (which place to be known as the meter inspection room, and may be the same place as the gas inspection room) for the purpose of testing therein all meters complained of by consumers of electricity and all other meters used by the company for the measurement of electricity. And the company shall be entitled to have a representative present in said room at all times, while any meter is being tested, proved or sealed therein, and be entitled also at all reasonable times to test and prove the accuracy of any appliance used in the testing of meters and the methods used in the testing thereof.

A meter shall be considered to be correct and register properly if, when tested under fair and reasonable conditions, it registers within 2 per cent of absolute accuracy. That when a consumer shall make complaint concerning the accuracy of his meter and pay to the inspector a fee of $1.00 the inspector shall give notice of such complaint to the company, which shall thereupon, in the presence of the inspector at such time as he shall designate, remove said meter from the premises of the consumer to the meter inspection room and shall also at the time install, in place of the one so removed, another meter duly tested and proved and sealed. The inspector, at the time of such removal of any meter, shall securely paste thereon a slip of paper containing his signature, the date of such removal and the description of the premises from which the meter is removed. RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

It's Me For Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, O.—adv.

CITY HAS CHANCE TO SECURE BIG BOILER ESTABLISHMENT

Company Seeks to Move From Large City to a Smaller One.—Would Ask Only Site and Inexpensive Building.—Is a Well Established and Growing Enterprise.

Jacksonville has an excellent opportunity of securing a business enterprise of large proportions, and that with the expenditure of only a comparatively small amount of money. Such was the statement yesterday of a well known business man who has been acquainted with the manager of this Boiler Building concern for a number of years and had a conversation with him recently.

The large business corporation is now employing between 300 and 400 men and is quietly seeking a location in a city smaller than that in which it has been operating for a great many years. The corporation is not looking for location and "bonuses" in the manner that characterizes a good many companies, but wherever it locates, will expect nothing more than a site of say two or three acres, and a building of simple construction. It is probable that a building entirely adequate for the purpose could be erected at a cost of $25,000, possibly less.

Seek A Smaller City. The works have been established for good many years and in their present location have reached the limit of development. It would be possible to secure plenty of more territory on the outskirts of the city wherein the works are now located, but when a change is made the management believes that it would be better to seek a smaller city. This change is deemed desirable because of the better labor conditions which prevail in a city like Jacksonville. The company employs union labor and has no fight to make an organized labor yet at the same time there are certain labor conditions in smaller cities which present advantages over those in large ones. It happens that many of the competitors of this company are located in cities of the size of Jacksonville and have this advantage as related to labor.

Rates Lower Here. It is also true, that so far as Jacksonville is concerned, the rates from that city are slightly lower than that city in which the company is now located. Most of the material which the company uses comes from the east and this fact of rates is therefore quite an argument in favor of Jacksonville, or a city located relatively the same. A concern of this kind needs what might be termed simply a shell of a building, that is, with walls and roof, as all the space within is for the machinery.

When the carshops were located in Jacksonville the plan followed out for securing the money pledged, was by plating the car shops addition and selling the lots. After paying all expenses about $55,000 was turned over to the railroad. This all happened about 23 years ago and figures show that during the intervening period the shops have paid out about $15,000,000 in wages. Anyone can readily figure what a large return has thus been made on this investment and the business men of Jacksonville are all ready with testimony as to the great benefit the shops have been to this business community.

Employees Would Grow in Number. The works which Jacksonville now has a reasonable chance of securing, would employ in the very beginning a larger number of men than is now working at the car shops, and it is reasonable to suppose that the business would be so developed that a much larger force of men would be employed as years move along. During recent years the business has been spreading out and shipments are now made to all parts of the country, and some have been made to our island possessions.

The new concern would give employment to young men and men of maturer years, and many of them skilled mechanics. This is a class of labor which is most desirable in an industrial way. The men would all draw good wages and would be able to maintain homes. The benefits accruing from an enterprise of this class are much greater than would be true from one employing female help only and of an unskilled kind.

Benefits Would Be Many. There are benefits of more than one kind from such an enterprise. The money distributed in the weekly or monthly payroll is of quick and certain help to the whole business community. This however, is secondary only to the impetus given general business and to the improvement in realty values which would naturally result.

It is said that a site of several acres in extent, admirably located so far as railroad facilities are concerned, can be secured without expense and all that would remain would be the securing of funds sufficient to erect a building. If any number of citizens signify their interest in the matter and it becomes apparent that the money can be raised, a speedy and definite effort will be made to secure the enterprise for Jacksonville.

FAILED TO KEEP TIME RECORD IN EXACT LEGAL FORM

This Was Charge Against U. G. Woodman Instead of That of Employing Females for Working Day of More Than Ten Hours—Text of Law Quoted for Benefit of Other Possible Violators.

In the Journal yesterday mention was made that U. G. Woodman and others had paid a fine of five dollars and costs each for violating the law with reference to the employment of female help. It seems that the statement was incorrect and the error that Mr. Woodman committed was in failing to keep a proper time sheet. In his case, and possibly in others, there would be no object in violating the law as his employees are paid by piece work and not by the day or hour. The Journal gladly gives space to Mr. Woodman's explanation of the matter and also to his suggestion prints the text of the law for the information of others who also may be unknowingly violating its provisions. The Journal Company.

Gentlemen: In the valuable columns of your publication of April 13th, under the heading, "Justice Courts," you report, "U. G. Woodman (and others) arrested and fined before Justice Dyer for violating the ten hour law." I beg to advise you that you have been misinformed as to the charge. In my case, my offense was lack of regard for Section 5 of "an act to regulate and limit hours of employment of females." Section 5 provides that "every employer, to whom the act applies shall keep a time book or record for each day, the hours during which each female is employed."

The "females" in my employ are paid by piece work only; they come and go when they please. It is immaterial to me. Our pay roll record shows what they have done and they are paid accordingly, regardless of the time spent in the place. The girls have been cautioned about working more than 10 hours a day and to my knowledge they have never broken this rule.

The "record" or time) we keep was not acceptable to Inspector Lawless and regardless of my willingness, in fact eagerness to comply at once with the department's reasonable requirements, I was "pinched" five bones and casts, $8.05 net, and just or unjust I paid it, simply to help the state along. Inspector Lawless takes his position very seriously, his features are sharp and his "bump of humor" would say is not well developed. Three of my brightest remarks went by him without bringing a smile; the cigar I offered was refused—there is no way to reach him.

The law is very plain. Inspector Lawless is a good inspector and for the benefit of employers that employ female help I would suggest that you publish Section 5 of this act, copy of which I enclose.

To my knowledge there are lots of innocent offenders in Jacksonville and it may save some of them $8.05 net if they will start a time record forthwith. To meet the requirements the record should show A. M. time the girl comes in; time off for lunch; P. M. time in and out and the total time for each day of the week.

Respectfully,

U. G. Woodman.

Every employer to whom this Act shall apply, shall keep a time book or record showing, for each day that his establishment is open, the hours during which each and every female in his employ to whom this Act applies, is employed. Such time book or record shall be open at all reasonable hours to the inspection of the officials of the Factory Inspection Department. The failure or omission to keep such record, or a false statement contained therein, or any false statement made by any person to an official of the Factory Inspection Department, in reply to any question put in carrying out the provisions of this Act, shall be punishable on conviction by a penalty of not more than $25.00 for each offense. Approved June 15, 1909; in force July 1, 1909.

NEW PROPRIETORS OF PACIFIC HAVE ARRIVED

Messrs. Lesh and Norris Will Take Charge of Well Known Hostelry Today.—J. B. Snell and Family to Take Summer Outing.

Messrs. W. H. Lesh of Markley, Ind., and W. B. Norris of Macomb, who recently purchased the Pacific hotel, arrived in the city Wednesday afternoon and will take possession at once. Both are men of wide experience in the management of hotels and they expect to remodel the Pacific in a great many ways to make it more up-to-date and attractive. Just arriving they will have to look over the ground somewhat before they can determine in just what ways they will begin operations. Both proprietors were accompanied by their wives and the city will certainly welcome these families.

J. B. Snell, the late proprietor, does not expect to embark in the hotel business again until next fall. He and his family will spend some time in Chicago and among the northern lakes. He already has a number of good offers and being a practical hotel man will have no trouble in securing a good position after his summer outing.

JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

THE ELECTRIC FRANCHISE.

The fact that the city council has given the first reading to the utility franchise is now being commented upon freely. Without considering the subject matter of the franchise there is undoubtedly a general feeling prevalent that definite and speedy action with reference to the franchise is desirable. The public is of the opinion that there has been plenty of time spent in discussing these matters and that in some form or other they should be placed before the people for their approval or disapproval.

It was stated yesterday that while the Railway & Light Company was willing to have the maximum electric rate fixed at 10 cents, that the company would not accept a franchise with the rate reduced to 8 cents. If the council gives the ordinance a second reading next Tuesday the company will then have a period of ten days during which time it may signify its willingness to accept the terms of the franchise. If this acceptance is not filed the franchise cannot be submitted to a vote of the people and the situation would be just as the past. If the city and the company cannot agree upon the terms of the franchise then but two courses are open, to allow matters to drift along, or for the city to bring ouster proceedings against the company.

In commenting upon the electric franchise a day or two since, the Journal quoted figures which it was deemed likely, would appear in the document and stated that it was not the purpose of this paper at the time to discuss whether the figures were too high or too low. So now, it is not the purpose to argue with reference to the propriety or impropriety of the 8 cents maximum price for there are no figures at hand to prove or disprove the justness of the price suggested. It does seem however, very desirable, both from a city and company standpoint, to reach a settlement of the franchise questions which have been dragging along through the years. If the rate proposed is too low the company has a remedy at its disposal in the good offices of the Illinois Utility Commission. If the company were to accept the franchise with the rates as scheduled it could then go before the commission and by making the proper showing secure an order from the commission, authorizing an increase of rates.

It seems true that the company could, more readily and with greater force, present an argument before the board for increasing its rates, than could the city present an argument asking for lower rates. In either case the company would have to present reports and records of the business it is doing in Jacksonville and an inventory of its property here would have to be made. The company, with its own regular employees and attorneys, would be in better shape to present its case before the board than would the city or any private citizen. The utility board has such large powers that it will probably be resorted to finally anyhow, by either the company or the city and possibly the company's interests would not be prejudiced by accepting a rate. It does not consider just and then taking the question before the Utility Board.

DIRECTORS OF CHAUTAUQUA HOLD BUSINESS SESSION

Much Time is Spent in Perfecting Committees For Annual Educational Festivities.—Baby Show to Be One of the Special Features Again.

A meeting of the directors of the Jacksonville chautauqua was held at the Dunlap house Wednesday, the business session following a luncheon at 12 o'clock. The matter of chautauqua committees was discussed. Dr. Josephine Milligan was appointed a special committee of one to make arrangements for the baby show. Last year 34 babies were examined relative to physical perfection, and it is hoped to have all these babies back again this year and for five years, so that a record can be made of their progress. This information will be of inestimable value to parents in the rearing of children, coming from the best of medical inspection. It is also hoped to have another class of babies of one year of age and under. It is understood that there is only one other similar baby show in the country and that is at Louisville, Kentucky, so it would seem that Jacksonville is taking an active lead in this work.

It is also the intention of the management to have a pure food exhibit from the state at the chautauqua. A special effort will be made to perfect sanitary conditions on the grounds, and the women's committee has made several valuable suggestions for the annual festival. H. J. and L. M. Smith will look after the needle craft department. James E. Shaw is expected in the city Friday from Bloomington. He has just returned from his wedding trip to Europe. The final program will be passed upon at a conference held with him.

A Human Churn

WHEN the food reaches the stomach it is subjected to a peculiar churning movement by the muscular walls of the stomach. (See Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, page 45). In the liver, kidneys and skin, the blood is purified of its waste materials—these organs act as human filters, leaving the blood pure and clear—unless liver, digestive tract and kidneys are clogged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a stomach, liver and kidney tonic—by assisting the stomach to assimilate, the liver to filter, the kidneys to act—the poisons are removed, the red blood corpuscles are increased and one feels light, fresh and active instead of logy, dull and heavy. The "Discovery" stimulates the stomach, increases action of heart and arteries and is a most satisfactory alternative in blood-taint of any character. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over forty years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form; or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. V. M. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y., a trial box will be mailed you.

WORLD'S LARGEST SHIP

NOW READY TO SAIL

Vaterland of Hamburg-American Line Is A Great Vessel.—In Many Ways Resembles "The Imperator."

Hamburg, May 13.—The greatest interest is being taken here in the departure tomorrow of the steamship Vaterland on her maiden voyage to New York. The Vaterland has the distinction of being the largest craft in the world. She belongs to the Hamburg-American Line and a number of the high officials of that company are going on her initial trip. In addition, the big ship will carry a thousand or more first and second class passengers, among those being the booking lists being many Americans and Europeans of prominence.

While closely resembling her famous sister ship, the Imperator, the Vaterland exceeds her in all dimensions. The new queen of the seas measures 950 feet, or nearly five city blocks, in length. She is 100 feet in width and has a tonnage of 58,000.

Not only does the Vaterland eclipse all previous records for size, but she represents the very latest idea of artistic elegance and mechanical wonders. Some of the leading decorators of Europe were engaged to design and furnish her magnificent salons, dining rooms, grand hall and suites. The main salon is the largest hall of its kind ever constructed on shipboard. The woodwork is of solid mahogany. There is an open fireplace, and natural light floods the hall through a number of drawing room windows. The hangings consist of almost priceless tapestries, and Oriental rugs of the finest weaves cover the floors.

The main dining room resembles the banquet hall of a great hotel. It will accommodate 800 diners at one time. The great size and steadiness of the vessel have made it possible to furnish the dining room with movable chairs, in place of the swivel seats attached to the floors, common to ocean steamships. In addition to the main dining room the big ship has a Ritz-Carlton restaurant, a grill room and a palm garden.

Everything on the Vaterland has been designed to look as much like a ship as human ingenuity can do it. The windows are shaped and curtained like a private house. Elevators take the passengers from one deck to another. For the millionaires the staterooms are as beautiful as the skill of the first decorators of the world can make them. In the regal suites, as they are called, there are two bathrooms, two bedrooms, a dining room and reception room. The bedrooms are of brass, without a suggestion of the bunk about them. Special attention has been paid to the arrangement of the lights and the closet space. The suites are furnished in a variety of decorative styles and color schemes to satisfy every taste.

The second cabin has its special social and dining rooms, ladies' lounge and smoking room. The third cabin also has its separate private rooms, and its staterooms are built to accommodate two and four persons. In the steerage of the Vaterland the passengers, instead of being placed in one large room, as on most ships, have separate cabins, arranged for families and for small groups of men and of women.

Every conceivable precaution has been taken in the construction and equipment of the Vaterland to assure the safety as well as the comfort of the passengers and crew. Like all great ocean liners constructed since the Titanic disaster, the big ship has a complete inner skin, extending far above the water line. The water tight compartments are so arranged that even though a large number of them were flooded the ship would still float. An innovation is a complete fire department with a system of signals covering every part of the ship, and a staff of fire fighters recruited from the fire departments of German cities. There are, of course, in addition to this numerous other safety devices, such as submarine signals and lifeboats and rafts sufficient to accommodate everyone aboard. Her powerful wireless apparatus will enable her to keep continuously in touch with land.

The Vaterland will make the run between Hamburg and New York in seven days, at an average speed of about twenty-two knots an hour. Her four powerful propellers set a new standard for size in such construction. Each has a diameter of nineteen feet seven inches and weighs nearly fifteen tons. The propellers are made of the finest quality of manganese bronze. Triple expansion engines, driven by a dozen double boilers, will propel the great steamship. For navigation purposes a Kreisel compass, pointing always to the true pole, will be used. This instrument is entirely independent of the earth's magnetism.

THEN and NOW

One hundred and eighteen years ago today the world's first vaccination by a physician was performed. On that day Dr. Edward Jenner, an English doctor, who had devoted 39 years to studying the subject, drew lymph from the hand of Sarah Newles, a milkmaid who had contracted cowpox while milking cows. He applied it to the arm of an eight-year old boy, named James Phillips. It was the beginning of the conquest of small-pox. At that time small-pox was causing one-tenth of all the deaths of the human race. It had destroyed or disfigured more than a fourth of mankind. It killed more than 50,000 Europeans during the eighteenth century. The absence of the pock-marks in those days was a means of identification. The London police department is sued the following description of a criminal sought in the seventeenth century: "Thomas Bayly, a short, burly man, fair and fresh-colored, without pock-marks."

Before the discovery of vaccination, small-pox was as prevalent as bronchitis is today. A half century before Jenner gave his discovery to the world, the dread disease wiped out 70 per cent of Greenland's population in a single year. The Spanish explorers carried it to the New World, and three years after Cortez had landed in Mexico over 3,500,000 natives had fallen victims to the scourge. More North American Indians fell before its invasion than fell before the white man's gun. Their number is estimated as high as 6,000,000.

Today vaccination has made small-pox a negligible factor in the list of human ills. It has practically driven it out of existence as a scourge of nations. Backed by the authority of law in many countries, medical science has inoculated the civilized races and made a pock-mark face a rarity today. Before Jenner discovered vaccination England reported small-pox cases at the rate of 4,000 to every million inhabitants. Today the vaccine point has reduced the rate to 20 to each million. Universal vaccination is compulsory in Germany and the rate has fallen to less than two to a million. It is ated at one case in a million people in Sweden today. Knowing that the dread disease has killed more people than have bullets and famine combined, most of the world's governments compel its people to be vaccinated. All United States soldiers and sailors pass through the experience. All immigrants landing on our shores must be inoculated. Many states have laws that order its school children to be vaccinated. Persons who have not undergone the operation in Norway are denied the privilege of voting at any election. Both bride and groom in Norway and Sweden must certify that they have inoculated before the minister will join them in wedlock. Every child born in Germany must be vaccinated in its first year of life and again twelve years later.

ALFRED WHARTON PASSES AWAY AT RESIDENCE WEDNESDAY MORNING

Had Been Superintendent of Jacksonville State Hospital Dairy 17 Years—Funeral Probably Friday.

Alfred Wharton died at his residence, 808 South Church street, on Wednesday morning at 7:20 o'clock after an illness with double pneumonia.

Mr. Wharton was born in England May 11, 1862 and had been a resident of Jacksonville for about twenty years. For the past seventeen years he has been superintendent of the dairy department of the Jacksonville State hospital. He has no relatives in Jacksonville, excepting his widow and four children, Minerva, Frederick, Virginia and Feltus. Mr. Wharton was an elder of Central Christian church and a man whose religious teachings were exemplified in his every day life. During his long residence here he made many friends who will extend their sincere sympathy to the relatives in their bereavement. He was also a member of the Modern Woodmen.

Funeral services will probably be held Friday afternoon at Central Christian church.

OLD RESIDENTS HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Herald returned Wednesday morning to their home in Pike county after visiting the families of their sons in Jacksonville. They were accompanied home by Mrs. E. D. Herald who will make a short visit. The elder Mr. Herald has reached the advanced age of 84 years and is a Civil War veteran, having belonged to the 101st regiment, Company C, from this city. Mr. and Mrs. Herald see many changes in the city since they were residents here.

WAS WITH MORGAN CADETS.

John C. McBride, whose funeral was held Wednesday afternoon was among the first members of the old Morgan Cadets and went with the company to St. Louis on strike duty in 1876 and 1886.

Balmy Peace.

By WALT MASON.

Let dogs delight to bark and bite, they have no better sense; but man, man, neighbors shouldn't fight across the garden fence. There are so many village rows! The husbands scrap and swear, the while their energetic fraus are busy pulling hair; and even the little kids are foes, and let their passions rise, and one goes home with bloody nose, and one with blackened eyes. And nearly all such wars are vain, and foolish and unjust; how shall it soothe your spirit's pain, a neighbor's head to bust? I kicked in ten of Jimpon's slats, and he bombarded me with cabbage heads and long dead cats, and eggs of '63. I lay upon a couch of pain, and there I sadly think that all such doings are insane, that warlike words are bunk. And when again I was on deck, I went to Jimpon's shack, and found that he was but a wreck since I had sprained his back. And there we vowed such things should cease, no more we'd scrap, by jings; we'd give the white winged dove of peace a chance to wave its wings. And now we love each other well and mind the golden rule; I borrow water from his well, he rides my saddle mule; and every time we have a chance we do a kindly deed, and all day long we sing and dance, like Gabys gone to seed.

lahan That He Is Disgusted With His Own Playing and Leaves Team

Chicago, May 13.—Harry Lord, the veteran third baseman and captain of the Chicago Americans, has quit baseball because "he felt himself slipping," according to a dispatch from Washington received other player for Manager Callahan, saying that he was disgusted with his own poor playing, Lord left the team in Washington and boarded a train for his home in Maine. Weaver will be captain of the club, playing shortstop, putting Alcock on third base and Blackburn back at second.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

The British amateur golf championship to be played on the Royal St. George course, at Sandwich, near London, next week, promises to be the greatest in the history of the pastime ever held on British soil.
The entry list includes upward of 250 players from America, England,
Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Australia, France, North and South Africa, and India. The ten Americans nominated include the world's champion, Francis Ouimet, Jerome D. Travers, amateur champion, and Charles Evans, Jr., twice holder of the western amateur championship. The entrants are desirous that in the drawing of the bays the leading players of the different countries will escape being drawn together in the earlier rounds.

Ping Bodie is the alibi for the downfall of the Sox at Washington on Tuesday. The pudgy Californian disjudged an easy line drive from the bat of Clyde Milan in the eighth allowing the Senators' centerfielder to negotiate the circuit on a tap that should have been an easy out.
Of course, Walter Johnson, who kept the Sox seven bingles scattered except in the third and fourth rounds, had nothing to do with the snaring of the Callahan nanny.
Poor, slobbering Ping is the fall guy!

There were two hero days in the east Tuesday. Mayor Riordan headed a delegation from Harrison, N.
J., which invaded the Polo grounds,
N. Y., where the Tigers and Yankees were engaged, and in the first inning, when the Tiger second baseman Kavanaugh appeared at the plate, his skelter admiring after much speechmaking, presented the "slugging kid" with a handsome gold watch. At Boston, it was "Leary day," and several hundred friends from Waltham, headed by a brass band, invaded the Red Sox park and presented the St. Louis Brown's first baseman, Leary, with a diamond ring. In the presence of their friends both youngsters acquired themselves in grand style.
Kavanaugh registered one of his team's four runs, clouted two hits, had two put-outs and three assists.
Leary made one hit and put out seven.

Danny Murphy, ex-captain of the world's champions, now with Ward's Brooklyn Federals, may have become "too old a spav" for Connie Mack's crew, but he cannot be accused of forgetting how to sight the gun.
Seldom these days does he quit a game without having crabbed two or more bingles, most of which are for extra strikes.

The Pueblo fireman, Jim Flynn and the Oklahoma engineer, Carl Morris, have been matched to box ten rounds at Joplin, Mo., for the truck horse championship and a title of the easy kale.

President Thomas of the Cubs failed in his recent mission to St.
Louis when, it is said, he opened negotiations with the Brittons for the services of Pitcher Slim Sallee, first baseman Jack Miller and Outfielders Wilson and Lee Magee. The Cardinal's bosses have not forgotten last winter's swap with the Pirates, and just at present are unwilling to lend assistance to the Cubs' pennant aspirations.

Lee Magee and Doc Sweeney are a pair of lucky ginks. President Tenner, instead of decorating the scrap-pers with a hood and blinkers (the rogue's badge) and banishing them from the game for an indefinite period, has simply fined them $50 each and advised them "to go and sin no more."

Tinker's Chifeds will be "put off at Buffalo" this morning for the first of the eastern series.

Flame Delhi, once with the Sox, and recently sold to Tebean of Kansas City by Pittsburgh, hit the bumps in terrific style Tuesday in the game against Louisville. The Colonels humped the elongated sorrel top for twelve hits and he passed seven. Two years ago, when with the Sox, Delhi gave promise of becoming one of the best twirlers in the American league, but a cold developed a kink in his arm and he was released to the Pacific Coast league only to be banished to the Union association of Idaho, Montana, etc. Last year he showed signs of a come-back and was signed by Pittsburgh. This spring the old trouble again visited him, and as yet he has been unable to can the critter.

Honus Wagner was badly spiked on one of his rands on Tuesday, when Mann of Boston attempted to stretch a single into a double, the Boston centerfielder going into the base and Wagner spikes first. The injury is a painful one and may keep Hans out of the Pirate-New York series, a most important one at this stage in the chase for the bunting.

Ever Hammer, a Chicago lightweight, and Goats Doig of Spring Valley have been matched to box ten rounds at La Salle May 26. If a name counts for anything Goats should hammer Ever—lastingly at the North Side Swede.

Jim Coffey, the Dublin giant, is fast shaping up as a "white hope."
At Philadelphia he landed a sleep producer on "Soldier" Kearns in one minute of milling, the blow catching the soldier squarely up in the jaw. Doctors worked three minutes upon Kearns before he "came out of it."

Again the prospects for the international polo championship contest is in doubt. Major Huntington of the British team, owing to the sevous illness of his wife, will not be able to cross the ocean this summer, and as a result, Lord Wimborne has hoisted a distress signal and is calling upon the officers of the Hurlingham club for assistance. The ponies were to have been shipped from England on Friday, so as to be in readiness upon the arrival of the team, but this arrangement will likely await the action of an extraordinary meeting of Wimborne's club members, to be held today.

Keating's team was reported victorious over Trahey's team Wednesday afternoon by the score of 13 to

Irrigates the Blood Knocks Rheumatism

A Remedy That Flushes the Blood from Head to Foot.

To get rid of rheumatism requires that the blood be completely flushed—not a mere long shift as by salts and pain killers. The long record of S. S. S. is important to know. It has found its way into every section of the nation. It is the most widely used and most widely talked of remedy there is for all blood troubles. And it is a known fact that rheumatism is primarily a blood trouble.

It is conceded by the closest students of the subject that rheumatism is caused in most cases by an acid condition of the blood and aggravated by the remedies commonly used for relief. In other cases rheumatism is the result of nerve depression; in still others it is the effect of some vitiated blood condition, having been treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other poisonous mineral drugs.

The recovery of all these types of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a wonderful tribute to the natural efficacy of this remarkable medicine, for it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well ordered as the most acceptable, most palatable and most readily digested food. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today, but insist upon S. S. S. Don't accept a substitute. You will be astonished at the results. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a great specialist confidentially, write to the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 536 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

WOOD'S FARM IS HISTORIC GROUND

One of the interesting and historic spots in Morgan county is the Wood estate, situated near Pisgah station. In that vicinity it was that the late Judge Samuel Wood wrought and succeeded in the face of adverse circumstances. The writer often reflects on the story told of how the judge when a young man wood and won Mrs. Patsy Smith and when they were married his earthly possessions were 25 cents and a pocket knife. The young man worked for the Wabash railroad company; he worked for neighboring farmers and early he showed his ability as a trader by buying apples and bringing them to the county to be sold again. One he went till his Morgan county possession consisted of almost 3,000 acres of choice land and many a time has the writer passed by the great 1,500 acre pasture, which was then near the home place and which has long since been cut up and cultivated.

The "boys" claim with pride that the farm is still in the Wood name and without an incumbrance. Ivan Wood owns 700 acres; James, 565; George, 500; Richard, 400; James B. Beckman, husband of the only daughter, 300; the estate of David Wood, 300. Several of these have other extensive holdings, James and Ivan especially.

Of course "nothing succeeds like success" and knowing this fact it was thought that the methods employed by Deacon Ivan Wood might be interesting to the readers of the Journal and he was sought for that purpose. The old homestead is being adorned with paint and other improvements by M. M. Wood, assisted by Jack Devlin, and will look fine when done.

Mr. Wood isn't yet ready to abandon cattle feeding and while he admits it isn't wholly certain to be profitable, he nevertheless keeps at it and take one year with another he finds it pays and the advantage of feeding on the farm is an item to be taken into consideration.

He generally buys his feeders in St. Louis and selects steers with good frames, not too coarse or large boned and coming three years old. He generally buys in February or March and may get some even as late as April, when the grass is in better shape. Some cattle he grazes and feeds at the same time, and some he feeds entirely. He prefers the self feeder, using for the purpose shelled corn, but says it must be done carefully and correctly to secure the best results. He says six inches of trough to a steer is enough. If the cattle get too much corn or get it too easily they are in danger of gorging themselves and scouring.

His feeders he make twelve feet square and four or five feet high, with a good roof, all made of good lumber and carefully put together. There are supplied with a trough all about the bottom edge and there is space through which the corn can come into the trough, but it should not be too wide, not more than enough to admit the fingers of an ordinary person, so that the cattle will have to lick and work somewhat to get the corn out.

With this kind of a feeder the cattle take care of themselves all right and need little attention. The corn should be good and when thus fed a steer will not justify more than one hog to follow instead of three, as is generally the case with shock or broken corn.

He constructs a feeder that will hold about 150 bushels and in general a healthy steer will eat a third of a bushel of shelled corn a day, whereas half a bushel of broken corn is the rule. The time of feeding varies and if he sees a good market which he thinks is likely to decline he lets his cattle go. He generally feeds not less than three months and sometimes six or more, but doesn't look with much favor on long time feeding. It may put on the fat and the steers may even top the market, but the profits are not so sure. Mr. Wood still thinks that cattle bought right and fed properly will pay, one year with another, though they are not as sure to be profitable as they were during the war.

He doesn't claim that his way is the only, but it is such as has been profitable. He says that if a man has plenty of help and all facilities for feeding it is best to feed at exactly the same time each day and give the animals no more than they will eat up clean.

He says that hogs are the best paying animals on the farm if they can be kept healthy. He says he doubts if there is really such a thing as hog cholera. Corn is the leading feed of the hogs and if fed too constantly and then withheld the hog is sick.

Mr. Wood has ninety which he is now feeding and says if one seems a particle drooping he gets the whole herd into the yard and doses them all. He likes Camp's cholera medicine and thinks there are other good remedies for this disease.

They may not like the medicine at first, but it is his experience that when they get used to it they will run after him for it.

He thinks the great trouble comes from neglecting a herd, when they will get into bad shape, but if a hog is at once taken in hand as soon as he gets off his feed and droops there is far less danger of the hog cholera.

It is wise to feed a hog three times a day, always if possible at the same hours and no more than he will eat up clean. Even let him squeal a little; it will not hurt him any. This is a matter of prime importance to the man who would secure the best results from his land.

Mr. Wood prefers the genuine Berkshire to any other breed and says it is hard to beat the old style animals of that breed. They must have good bone and muscle, large frames and well made. Sometimes he likes to cross a Berkshire with a Poland-China, but after all prefers the genuine, well made, large framed and boned Berkshire to any other. He cares little for the individual hog houses made and used by many and says his best success has been when the hogs went as they pleased. He likes a good building into which the hogs may go to farrow and where they may get shelter from a storm, but generally speaking he gets best results when his hogs run in the pasture and come up and get under a shed in time of storm.

The first litter of pigs he likes to have come about the first of May, when the weather is pleasant and likely to remain so.

His young pigs he gives a mixture of slop with bran and meal and plenty of grass. He markets at eight to ten months of age. He had eight once which were a cross Duroc and Berkshire, which weighed 280 pounds each at eight months of age. He also had a bunch which weighed 250 at six months.

Like all other successful farmers Mr. Wood is a firm believer in keeping up the fertility of the soil. He says if he had 160 acres of land he would have 40 in grass and meadow and the 120 he would divide into two parts and alternate all the time with but one crop of corn at a time.

If he had corn on land he would think it well to cut it, husk the corn and sow the land in rye as early as practicable and as soon as the corn is removed feed the hogs right on the field and as many as desirable and keep right on and in the spring turn the crop of rye under and you have a fine fertilized field.

He also thinks well of the silo where a man has a somewhat limited area of land and wants to save all and have it go as far as possible, as it saves stalks and all and makes a good return to the land.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Use Like Cold Cream to Subdue Irritation and Clear Skin.

Constant or intermittent irritation producing itching and red, angry Eczema patches on the skin is readily relieved with bold-sulphur cream. The moment it is applied the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist.

It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur cream has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. It is not only parasiticide but also antipruritic and antiseptic and nothing has ever been found to take its place in overcoming the terrible and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubles should get from any pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the affected skin like you would any ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with itching.

EAST ST. LOUIS MARKET LETTER

National Stock Yards, Ill., May 13.

Blakely-Sanders-Mann Company says: Cattle receipts were 3,800 yesterday, practically all natives and 4,000 today. 65 cars native and 87 southern. This is the first day of the year when the southern receipts have exceeded the natives. The market on the good steer cattle shows fully steady with last week, a little strength was displayed in places today, that is on the cattle good enough to sell at 8 1/2c and above. The medium to fair cattle have not sold so freely and show 10 to 15c lower than last week. The fact that we are receiving quite a few good southern cattle materially effects the prices of the medium natives as they come in competition with that class.

The yearling and butcher heifers are about steady on the good fat kinds, selling $8.75 or better, but the medium fleshed to pretty good kind are generally 10 to 15c lower, or where the heifers are a little heavy or covey shaped they were slow to sell. Cow trade not quite so brisk as yesterday, but the market has averaged fully steady on all classes. Stocker and feeder supply very moderate, market active and strong on all kinds. Bologna bulls continue to sell good, going largely $6.25 to $6.75, but it takes good fat butcher bulls to bring $7.00. We look for a moderate supply of cattle the balance of the week and expect no material change in values.

HOGS.

With a run of 15,000 hogs Monday, the market declined at least 15c from Saturday's best time or 25c from Friday's high time. Today, with 11,000, the market was steady; top $8.50; most of the good hogs $8.40 to $8.45; light to good mixed $8.30 to $8.40; good weight pigs $7.75 to $8.10; light pigs $7.00 to $7.75; rough packers sold from $7.75 to $8.00. Do not look for any material change the next few days, as we believe the supply will be lighter.

FARM FOES AND FRIENDS

Editor Journal—
Seeing an article in the Journal in regard to snakes, wild fowl, insects and other things being not appreciated by the farmers generally I would like to supplement Mr. Kearns in some of his charges.

I will admit that it seems many agriculturists pay little heed to the animal life which pays them big profits in the keeping down of injurious pests that threaten crop and livestock. But I think that many farmers do appreciate the animal life on their places and what it does for them.

For instance the bull snake has been mentioned and is one great example of the farmer's friend unappreciated. The bull snake saves the tiller of the soil many a dollar during the course of the year and yet very few opportunities are passed up when a chance comes to kill the snake. The younger generation should be taught early in life to know their friends and foes on the home place. I speak from experience and know that in a great measure Mr. Kearns is only too correct in some of his statements. I do think however that better days in this regard are coming. Farmers are learning rapidly to know the animal life that helps and that hinders their work.

The agricultural schools will bring about a great change in the next few years. Our boys will bring back from these institutions in the next twenty or thirty years knowledge that will revolutionize the farming game as our forefathers knew it. The farmer of the next generation who has no special training, who has not applied himself to learn something of the "inside" farming, the scientific part of it will find himself greatly handicapped alongside of the fellow who has taken the time and spent the energy to learn and acquire these most necessary ideas.

This does not necessarily mean that the youngster has to go to the state university and spend four years in research there. He may, by the purchase of good books on the subject and by diligent study during spare hours, acquire a very good understanding of the problems of the soil.

And at the present prices of land throughout this section of the state it is needless to state that there is going to have to be some scientific farming done to make the land pay a fair interest on the money invested. To the renter and to the land owner the problem is alike a big one and one which needs study and time to work out.

And so I claim that Mr. Kearns' point is well taken and that we should by a campaign of education through the younger generation and study ourselves take advantage of everything that is an aid to us in the country. We should make the most of our opportunities in this direction.

Putting on the Fat

Out on my farm I am giving a practical demonstration of what can be accomplished with the Wood's Grain Softener.

There are 43 cattle in the bunch. Each steer is getting a peck of corn daily. It is ground, cob and all and then cooked. In addition to the corn, each steer gets about nine pounds of clover hay a day and straw is near them all the time. A man with long experience, who has been watching these cattle, says they are putting on three to four pounds a day. They are sure making good money and the reason is that corn prepared in my cooker has far more nutriment value than fed in the ordinary way. Come and see these cattle.

MISSIONARIES TELL OF LIFE IN BRITISH INDIA

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Fairbank Heard in Interesting Talks Wednesday Evening at the Congregational Church.

The work of missionaries in India and the life and customs of the native inhabitants, were discussed Wednesday evening at the Congregational church by the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Fairbank, themselves returned missionaries. A large number were in attendance, the lecture room being packed to capacity. In the absence of Dr. Post, B. W. Smith presided and introduced Mrs. Fairbank as the first speaker, who said in part:

"A missionary has all sorts of duties to perform and all one can learn in advance in any line will be useful. I have had duties in many different lines to perform but the one I most like is that of instructing Hindu girls. I have three classes, one among the lowest caste, persons not even permitted inside certain cities, and the other two among higher castes. The lower cannot at all mingle with the other for they even attempted to attend the same school all the others would at once stay away.

"The people of the lowest caste are extremely poor. Their abodes are tiny affairs hardly large enough to accommodate the inmates who have little or no furniture and the most scanty means of subsistence. They have been oppressed so long that even their speech is affected and they speak indistinctly and that defect must have attention as soon as possible. When they succeed in overcoming it well they are admitted to a boarding school and sometimes they make the best teachers, going among their own people and lending them a helpful hand.

The girls of the higher caste can only attend till they are twelve years of age and then they must leave for that is the marriageable age of Hindu girl. The pupils came from homes in which idols are worshiped and have on their foreheads marks indicating the worship they have performed that day. Others come from Mohammedan homes and the girls in these schools also make the best teachers.

They readily learn hymns and prayers and some give up their ideas of caste and full embrace Christianity and labor earnestly all their lives for their people. The love of God is a theme to which most are strangers and it is indeed precious to them for it is so foreign to the teaching of their native faiths. It is a blessed story to tell these benighted ones and they learn it eagerly.

Mr. Fairbank followed:
"In Bombay there is a depressing shortage of workers. We thought we had three to come but they failed to appear at the appointed time and these on the field have their hands full indeed. The condition of the people is pitiful they are so poor. I have here a doll which is an expensive one for that country. It is carved out of wood, seven or eight inches long and costs two cents or less and many little girls have to put up with dolls cheaper than this. Here is a miniature flour mill used by the children as a playing and an imitation of the article used by the mothers daily. The grain that makes the substance of their living is ground by the women early in the morning and we see here, as in bible times 'two women grinding at a mill.'

The meal is mixed with salt and water and baked and eaten with curry or red peppers. A pound and a half a day will supply a child at the school and it costs two cents, about and the cakes with curry and all can be supplied for a child for a dollar a month and for a larger child or adult for $1.33 a month.

I have here a number of articles which are made by the mission schools. Here is a sample of a Persian rug, a choice article and one which will compare most favorably with the best articles turned out by professional manufacturer. Here are some samples of cloth made by the missions which are very good also. Here is a sample of embroidery made by widows in their homes. Our capable pupils make from five to ten cents a day and do well to earn it. We also make carpets and articles of hammered brass, some of which I have one. The plain articles in this material are nice but the ornamental ones are still finer. Some of our more skillful weavers make as much as sixteen cents a day which is large wages for that land.

Everywhere the work is growing and becoming more and more important. Signs in India are hopeful. While progress is slow it is sure. The secretary of the foreign missionary society was happily surprised when he visited India and saw the work really accomplished. The field had been looked on as hopeless but the results showed it to be much otherwise.

Caste which is often compared to a vast, immovable ledge of rock is giving way to some extent though in this the women are harder to reach and convert than the men and oppose a change most vigorously.

The prayers, the sympathy, the help of those at home are all needed. Volunteers for the work are also in demand for the time is ripe for great things in India. Though Mohammedans are so hard to reach we have had some converts among them and they have made the best of Christians. They are not so bitterly opposed as in Turkey though they have much to bear and often their lives are in danger.

A very small beginning is being made in the remarrying of widows which from time immemorial has been so unknown in India. In the whole land perhaps sixty widows have remarried which is a beginning.

A social time followed and nice refreshments were served by the ladies and were greatly enjoyed. Many pressed forward to greet the devoted and talented speakers who received many attentions and compliments. The entire evening was most happily and profitably spent.

John N. Ward yesterday recalled the fact that May 13 marked the forty-sixth anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the Morgan county court house. He said yesterday that he was in Jacksonville that day and well remembers the throng that assembled for this important event. He said that in his mind's eye, he could see the assembled company and that he remembered the program in its general particulars, but that the late C. A. Catlin was the only one of the group whose name he could recall.

Mr. Ward, by the way, now ranks as possibly the oldest business man in Jacksonville in point of business years. May 13 was also his forty-sixth business anniversary. His father's family lived in Bloomington and he came from that city here and purchased a news stand and book store then located on South Main street. Subsequently his brothers, A. J. Ward and C. H. Ward came from Bloomington and for a time were associated with him. Later the store location was changed from South Main street to the marble front building on the south side of the square, where forty years ago was laid the foundation for the present extensive business of the Ward book bindery. Subsequent quarters were in the building now occupied by the Hofmann Floral Company, the Bruce Piano Company and J. P. Brown. Mr. Ward had this building erected and used the first floor for his book store and those above for the bindery. He subsequently sold the book store to C. H. Smith and devoted his entire attention to the bindery. Still later he removed to the Wadsworth building on the south side of the square and then, about ten years ago, erected the building which he is now occupying.

Mr. Ward employs from 25 to 35 persons all the time and practically all of his work is done with public libraries. The business is somewhat unique in that little solicitation is done and practically all the time the bindery has more work than it can take care of speedily. This condition has resulted from the fact of reasonable prices, superior workmanship and the care which is taken in shipping all orders. Mr. Ward does business with libraries in fifteen or twenty states and has come to be known as a specialist in this class of work. Many of the binding methods that he uses are protected by patents. Withal he conducts a very important Jacksonville enterprise in a very unostentatious way and it might be mentioned in the same connection that he is one of Jacksonville's best citizens.

FEDERAL TROOPS LEAVING TAMPIO

ing taken. Ammunition is being concentrated here and at Monterey and the available food supplies are ample. The question of transporting the wounded has received special attention and many vehicles have been remodelled for that purpose.

Large stores of medical supplies have arrived and the staff of physicians has increased from fifteen to twenty.

The horses are being given as much care as the men. Villa has learned that mounted infantry is his most serviceable arm and as many men as possible are being given mounts. The great mobility of such troops over the federal infantry is regarded as a most important factor in the campaign.

First Formal Steps Taken.
Washington, May 13.—First formal steps in the program of mediation in the Mexican problem were taken here today.

Justice Lamar and Frederic W. Lehmann, together with their secretary, H. Percival Dodge, who will represent the United States paid their respects to the three South American envoys who have undertaken by diplomacy to solve the Mexican question. Coincidentally word was received by the mediators direct from the Mexico foreign minister at Mexico City that the Huerta representatives would arrive at Havana tonight or tomorrow and leave immediately for Nicaragua Falls via K. West for the opening of the conference Monday.

Reports were current that strong pressure would be brought to bear on the constitutionalists from several quarters after the Tampico battle to induce them to participate in the mediation.

President Wilson during the day promised a delegation of oil well owners at Tampico that with the fighting over he would make strong representations to the authorities in control there to secure a resumption of oil operations. Secretary Bryan announced that the United States had no intention of holding Lobos Island and that if the Mexicans would keep the navigation lights burning there the Americans would leave.

Secretary Garrison asked General Funston for further details of the arrest of the five South Americans accused of sniping at Vera Cruz.

There was much discussion in executive quarters about the question of ammunition shipments destined for Tampico when the constitutionalists are in full control.

Constitutionalists here are authority for the statement that after the battle at Tampico and that at Saltillo, which is now being fought, the rebels will have little ammunition left with which to continue the fight against Huerta. With a practical embargo on the importation of munitions of war across the American border in effect, the rebels believed their only chance of getting additional ammunition will be from abroad.

On the other hand, should the constitutionalists be allowed to import ammunition through Tampico some officials point out that Huerta probably would protest that the holding up of shipments of arms for him at Vera Cruz was unjust. Fighting on the west coast today was desultory, according to meagre reports. The federalists still were occupying the city of Tepic. Trains were running between Guadalajara and Mexico City but the constitutionalists were threatening to cut the line again.

Secretary Garrison has directed no movements of troops which have any relations to the Mexican situation. The secretary let it be known that Lieut. Charles M. Maigne, the retired army officer, who incurred war department displeasure by going through the Mexican federal lines as a newspaper correspondent would not be court martialled for his indiscretion. Instead, secretary Garrison has ordered that Lieut. Maigne be placed on the first transport sailing for the United States and he announced that he would be satisfied if the retired army officer gave up his activities as a war correspondent.

But in disposing of the Maigne case Mr. Garrison stated emphatically that all war correspondents must comply with the war department regulations especially formulated for their guidance.

The Ingredients Are High Class

In making cakes and pastry for our Delicatessen department, we could use much cheaper materials and still have fairly good results. We have chosen however to make use only of high quality materials and so the Delicatessen pies, cakes, salads, etc. will be found uniformly good.

We believe that the people are appreciating these high quality goods, if judgment can be based on the very liberal patronage given.
